Art Andrea Ledesma-Thwaites
Emma creates with confidence. She thoroughly enjoys creating with a rich imagination and creative ability. She uses both to get stuck in and works hard while having fun.

Music Chante Cupido
Emma continues to blossom during presentations. She has shown promising progress over the past six months. She continues to make meaningful contributions to presentations and works to full capability, exhibiting her innate music ability, whether it's singing, dancing, instrument play, listening skills, etc. Keep shining, Emma.

Social and Emotional Development Kim Euston-Brown
Emma is independent, confident and content in her self. She is expressive and her self regulation is consistently improving. She will be sorely missed by her peers as well as the adults in her environment and we are sure she will
